CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

ENGINEERING

NETLOGIX, Auckland NZ (Oct 22 - Present)

Interim Team Lead (3 months)

- Scoped business requirements into technical workloads and allocated engineering resources into six-week cycles using the Shape-Up methodology
- Onboarded several new customers with bespoke requirements onto our APIs, with a focus on customer experience and success
- Supported the team with personal issues and professional development
- Ensured momentum and met deadlines by providing timely and constructive code reviews and pair programming to remove blockages

Full Stack Software Engineer

- Maintain a suite of REST APIs and webhooks that allow customers to integrate with our systems and automate workflows
- Designed and deployed many features and fixes to the backend microservices using Infrastructure as Code (AWS CDK) and Typescript
- Use CI/CD pipelines to deploy work to DEV, UAT and PROD environments across multiple regions
- Daily interaction with dozens of AWS services in compute, storage and databases, networking and content delivery, security, serverless and data management
- Involved in architecting the pub/sub event-driven platform built on AWS SQS and SNS
- Interact with data using various database engines and data stores such as MySQL, NoSQL and S3 object storage
- Resolved a broad range of production incidents, bugs and tech debt

- Contribute to the development of a customer Single Page Application (SPA) built using React and Typescript
- Provide internal and external documentation to support my work
- Conduct unit and integration testing to strengthen my work, leveraging Docker and Localstack services
- Champion learning, product demos and mentoring so the team succeeds together
